FELLOW NUMISMATISTS —

Welcome to our Sale No. 93. In this catalog we are proud to present the SANTIAGO COLLECTION which we believe may well be the finest collection of Chilean Colonial and Republican coins ever formed. This is not to say that every category within the collection is the most comprehensive seen. While the collection contains some important gold pieces, it is primarily a silver collection. The gold presentation in the Garcia Collection (which we were happy to help negotiate a few years back) was much more comprehensive. The Colonial 8 Reales which Freeman Craig sold in his series of sales of the Ray Johnson Collection formed a more important group than those herein offered. The great strength and importance of the Santiago Collection is in its overall scope, breadth, and depth. There are over 450 Santiago Colonial coins presented, by far the largest group ever sold at once. The silver and minor coinage of the Republic is virtually complete by date and die variety. The outstanding group of patterns features many superb pieces, noteworthy among which is the magnificent Portales Peso pattern of 1819. The collector will note many instances of apparently duplicate coins. In many cases these represent minor die varieties, a feast for the student. In other instances the duplication occurs because the Santiago Collection is, in reality, the result of a merger of two of the finest Chilean Collections, now offered here in their entirety. Also remarkable, particularly for a collection formed in South America, is the high overall state of preservation of the coins. There are many, many coins of all series and denominations which are probably the finest known specimens of their types. We have long had an interest in Chilean coinage. Over the years, in addition to the Garcia collection mentioned above, we have handled the Schaible, Elfert, and Edelstein (Stone) collections of Chile, plus selections from the Medina and Yudelevich holdings. So, we already were rather familiar with the series. Never before, however, have we seen and been privileged to offer so many outstanding Chilean coins at once, and I doubt that the opportunity will ever again present itself.

In addition to our library and experience we called upon several other colleagues for information about Chilean coins, and we express our thanks to them for their help. These include our always helpful and knowledgeable friend and colleague Freeman Craig, Jeff Zarit of Texas who handled the colonial minor coinage of the Garcia Collection, and Adolfo Edelstein of Haifa, a former serious collector of Chilean coins.

If you're a date collector, the coins are here; if you're a type collector, the coins are here; if you just might like a couple of Chilean coins to fill in a slot in your collection, the coins are here. The sale is totally without reserves. Dig in, and

COLONIAL COINAGE OF THE SANTIAGO MINT

SANTIAGO PILLAR DOLLARS

The possession of a Santiago Pillar Dollar is always the pride of any collection of Latin American crowns. We are, therefore, very pleased to be able to offer to you two different dates of these extremely rare coins. 8 Reales pieces were struck at the Santiago Mint for almost all years between 1751 and 1770 under both Ferdinand VI and Charles III. Mint records of the era are fragmentary, but we know that at least 56,236 pillar dollars were struck (and that covers only four years of issue). Mintages were not large; Santiago produced mostly gold in those days; but where have all the pillar dollars gotten to? Less than 50 pieces are known today of all the dates put together. Well over half of those are of only two dates - 1758 and 1768. Most other dates have only one or two specimens known. The two pieces offered here are each probably Unique.

- THE COINAGE OF THE REPUBLIC OF CHILE
- When Chile declared Independence, new dies were quickly prepared for the Silver peso, the most common coin in international trade, as a symbol of national pride. The other denominations, in both gold and silver, continued to be struck using dies with the Spanish portraits and legends. San Martin complained, and republican dies were eventually prepared for all denominations. The last coin to be struck with colonial types was the silver cuartilla, struck until 1823 using Spanish types dated 1818. This coin got around San Martin's complaint since it had never carried a Spanish portrait, just the lion and castle.*

- As noted in the Memorial of 20 Mayo, 1862, the engraving department of the Santiago Mint prepared new designs and dies for all silver denominations. These show on the obverse a coat of arms with very thick and widespread plumes and, on the reverse, a seated condor holding a shield. The condor's wings have blunt ends and his neck is short. While it is a beautiful design, the execution of the dies was faulty, and even true UNC pieces generally have flat breasts.
- 419 1 Peso. 1867. With "1" in denomination. Yeo 18, Eliz 113. A really magnificent example of this rare one year type. Fully Prooflike UNC with wire rim. It's hard to find something to complain about with this coin. (4000.00-5000.00) PHOTO
- 420 1 Peso. 1867. With "1" in denomination. Yeo 18, Eliz 113. Lightly toned Abt EF with a bit of extra metal on the rim. If it were not for the preceding lot, this would be one of the highlights of this sale. This legitimately rare type seldom appears. It is a fluke that in the last 2 years the Norweb piece, Freeman Craig's specimen, and these two examples have been offered. It may be another decade before another shows up. - Due to complaints regarding the low relief and flat breasts of the 1862-1867 coinage, new master dies and patterns were commissioned abroad. These kept the same devices but with modifications. The condor's wings are more pointed and neck longer. The plumes are taller and narrower. For the silver peso the value is given as "UN" insted of "1".

The following lots contain an unusually nice date run of Silver Un Peso pieces from 1867-1891. While it is a common type, the overall state of preservation of this collection is noticeably better than that of Jess Peter's Higgins collection, our own sales including the Faistauer group, or those held recently by Freeman Craig. Even though considered "common" the entire mintage from 1867-1891 amounts to about 1 year's worth of U.S. Morgan dollars.

COINAGE ISSUED UNDER THE 1895 MONETARY CONVERSION LAW. By this law Chile proposed to redeem the paper money in circulation with metallic coins. In order to facilitate this, the fineness and weights of the coinage were reduced. From here-on it is all downhill for the value of the Chilean peso.

Av. F-VF. The lot should bring 450.00-650.00.

The following lots contain a very handsome group of medals struck at the Santiago Mint, mostly the work of the engraver Rene Thenot. Santiago mint medals, often handsome and struck in small numbers, are not well known outside of Chile. These lots which follow contain many of the medals in quantity, including many varieties of weights and finishes which were not issued to the public. Where possible we have indicated the official mint records of numbers struck. The experimental weights and finishes do not appear in the mint records but were generally struck in only a small handful of examples.

Rene Thenot, also known for his pattern coins, was a Frenchman. After spending time in Africa learning to engrave animals from nature (this famous series of plaquettes is still available from the Paris Mint), Thenot accepted the job of chief engraver to the Chilean Mint in 1937. He served in this capacity until his retirement in 1958. He was born in 1893 and died in 1963. In 1912 in France he won the gold medal for works by young artists in the annual concourse. In the following year he was drafted by the French army, served throughout World War One (in which he was wounded three times) and was mustered out of uniform in 1919. The next year he went to work for the medalists, Bertrand. In 1921 he won the Gran Prix de Rome for his medallic work; in 1925 he won the silver medal at the Paris Exposition Internationale de Artes Decorativas. Returning to France in 1935 after his African stay, he won the gold medal for his animal series in the 1937 Exposition Internationale. In Chile his work, naturally, covered more busts of Presidents, Generals, and industrialist than fauna, but, wherever possible he would sneak a magnificent ram or bull or horse into his medals. Both France and Chile can and should be proud of his work.
